

PUSHING BOUNDARIES
CONSULTING, LLC

Meet Eric Nichols

Eric Nichols is the father of 4 and is currently a high school principal in rural-frontier Burns, Oregon and a K-12 virtual school principal. He has held the positions of: service district technology director, curriculum/assessment director, middle school principal, federal programs director, and high school teacher. Eric began his career in education 19 years ago and is an advocate for student voice and teacher voice. His expertise and specialties include teacher recruitment and retention, teacher mentoring, policy and organizational clarity, student engagement, school turnaround, rural education, technology integration, federal programs and grant writing, and helping all students and teachers succeed!

Eric is based in rural Oregon and can be found on Twitter at @IamEricNichols or by visiting his website found at <https://sites.google.com/view/iamericnichols/home?authuser=2>.